GREAT ACTIVITY OF AIRMEN
AND ARTILLERY FORECASTS A RESUMPTION OF HOSTILITIES

Americans Have the Advantage in the Initial Exchanges, Reports Today From Battle Front Assert; Swedish Gunboat Victim of the Huns.

ATTEMPT IN CHEMIN-DES-DAMES FALLS FLAT

By Associated Press.
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, Sept. 25.—10 A. M.—Airmen of both armies were active early today and increased artillery action was noted along the lines of the old St. Mihiel sector. Bright skies have replaced the clouds and rain of recent days and aerial observers were sent out by both the Americans and Germans.

German fliers extended their operations in some places many miles behind the lines but sharp countering by the Americans gave them little opportunity for close operation or for photographic work. Infantry patrols as well as aviator groups were active between the lines. The artillery on both sides bombarded objectives behind the front lines, the gunners seeking cross roads and troop formations far and near.

SWEDISH WAR VESSEL

SUNK BY GERMAN MINE
COPENHAGEN, Sept. 25.—The Swedish gunboat Geinild has been sunk by striking a German mine in the Skagerrak with the loss of the chief officer and 18 men, reports the correspondent of the Politiken at the Skaw, the northernmost point of Denmark. Persistent rumors, he adds, are current at the Skaw that another Swedish gunboat struck a mine a few days ago and that a greater part of the crew were killed.

ENEMY ATTACK ON

CHEMIN-DES-DAMES FAILS
PARIS, Sept. 25.—German troops last night made an effort to regain some of the valuable ground recently won from them by the French near the western end of the Chemin-des-Dames. They attacked in the region of the Moisy farm in this area but, according to today's war office statement, the effort was an entire failure.

REPORT MAY BE FALSE

Telegram Announcing M. Pleasant Boy's Death Cannot Be Traced.
Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 25.—What appears to be German propaganda, carried to the extreme, seems to have been used in reporting to Mrs. Cordelia Johnston of this place the death of her son, Lester W. Johnson, of Company I, Greensburg.

Saturday night Mrs. Johnston received a message by telephone that her son had died of wounds in France. Presumably the informant was at a telephone office. Later when Mrs. Johnston asked for a copy of the telegram at the local telephone office she learned no such message had been received there. Inquiry at the offices at Connellsville, Scottdale and Greensburg brought the same reply. Mrs. Johnston will communicate with the War Department to learn if there is any truth in the report.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR SLIGO IRON
& STEEL COMPANY

Mismanagement of Affairs Has Jeopardized Plant, It Is Charge.

OBLIGATIONS ARE $500,000

And Still Piling Up, Says J. S. Bryner, Stockholder, in Petition for Relief; Raw Material on Hand Worth from $250,000 to $400,000 is Alleged.

Alleging that the "mill and the business" of the Sligo Iron & Steel company of Connellsville have been very badly mismanaged by its officers and directors, J. S. Bryner, acting for interested persons, today, through Attorney J. Kirk Renner, filed a petition in Uniontown for the appointment of a receiver or receivers to take charge of and manage the property. The petition also prays for injunction restraining creditors from bringing actions against the company that might impair the proper conversion and liquidation of the assets.

Bryner, the petition sets forth, is a stockholder, owning 1,200 shares of stock. It is alleged that the corporation is the owner of 15 acres of land and a mill erected for the manufacture of steel products and that it has on hand raw materials to the value of $250,000 to $400,000.

The total capacity of the plant is about 5,000 tons a month. It is set forth, but because of mismanagement it has never actually turned out that amount. Much of its output is for war work.

Discussing the alleged mismanagement the petition sets forth that raw materials have been purchased beyond capacity for immediate use, products have been sold at less than cost of production, that costs have been largely increased by lack of efficiency and that improvident contracts have been entered into with the result that the obligations during the past year have increased until they total at least $500,000 in excess of its cash or accounts receivable. Such mismanagement still continues without abatement, it is alleged.

There are now outstanding against the corporation large claims growing out of improvident contracts, it is alleged, upon which immediate action is threatened. It is asserted that with the present management the mill under competent management would be a comparative brief time be able to pay a large part of its debts and the company's affairs be placed in a solvent and even prosperous condition.

DRAWING POSTPONED

Until Errors in Serial Numbers Are Corrected by Boards.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The national lottery which, in a measure, will determine the order of the calling of the 13,900,000 men between 18 and 45 years of age who registered September 12, probably will not be held before next week. Officials had hoped to fix a date this week, but this plan is understood to have been abandoned in order that additional time may be given local boards to correct errors made in assigning serial numbers to registrants.

Since men between 18 and 36 are to be the first called to the colors the drawing will have less effect upon determining the order of the call than did that for the nearly 1,000,000 men who turned 21 before last June 6.

Order numbers for all the 13,900,000 men will be drawn, but youths of 18 and men between 36 and 45 will not be classified until the boards have given classification to all the men between 18 and 36, who are the first to receive their questionnaires. In the meantime many of the 18-to-36 classes will have been inducted into service.

U-BOATS RESTRICTING U. S.
TROOP TRANSPORTATION VON
HERTLING LIES TO REICHSTAG

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 25.—Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor, in addressing the main committee of the reichstag yesterday declared that the submarine warfare is slowly but surely diminishing Allied tonnage.

"Above all," he said, "it is restricting the transportation of reinforcements of men and material from the United States."

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 25.—Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor, in addressing the reichstag main committee, complained of the lack of attention his acquiescence in the four points laid down by President Wilson as peace essentials had met from the American executive.

The chancellor asserted that on February 22 of this year he declared in the reichstag his agreement in principle with the possibility of discussing a general peace on the basis of the four points of President Wilson's message of February 2, but that President Wilson neither at that time nor since had taken any notice of the chancellor's declaration.

LEISENRING BOY
DIES IN BATTLE
ON WEST FRONT

Michael Ney Shoenberger Officially Reported Killed in Action.

SEVERAL ARE WOUNDED

Casualty Telegrams Tell of Mishaps to Warren D. Younk, Connellsville, and Vanderbilt and Scottdale Men Fighting Against the Hun.

Michael Ney Shoenberger, of Leisenring No. 1, was killed while battling with the Huns on August 7, according to a telegram received by the young soldier's father, Frank Shoenberger of Leisenring, from the War Department. Shoenberger was one of the best-known young men of Leisenring, having spent most of his life there. He is survived by his father, a stepmother, two brothers, in France, and two sisters. His mother died a few years ago.

Sergeant Harry P. Douglass, son of Elmer R. Douglass of Vanderbilt, was wounded in action, and in a letter received by his father Saturday night the young sergeant stated that his wound was healing nicely and that he expected to be back on the battle front soon. The name of Sergeant Douglass appears in today's casualty list, among the severely wounded.

Sergeant Douglas was widely known in and about Vanderbilt. He was a railroad and served in the Spanish-American war. He was working at Chicago Junction when he enlisted in the world war.

Grover Felgar, of Scottdale, was severely wounded in France, according to an announcement made by the War Department.

Mrs. Lucinda Younk of Snydertown received a telegram from the War Department yesterday telling her that her son, Warren D. Younk, was severely wounded about August 20.

Younk is a member of Company D, 110th Infantry and in a letter received by his mother on Thursday, September 19, the young soldier said he was in a hospital in France, gas-burned and burned, but not serious. The telegram probably refers to the wounds mentioned by Younk.

The casualty list today contains the name of Private Harry A. Barnum, of Scottdale, among the severely wounded. The message was sent by the War Department to Mrs. Jefferson Freeman, of 15 Spring street, Scottdale, an aunt, and by her delivered to the boy's mother, Mrs. Nellie Deemer, of Wyano, there being no telephone office at the latter place.

FAIRCHANCE BOY IN CANADIAN ARMY KILLED

John Conn, of near Fairchance, received a letter yesterday from J. Hill of Company D, Battery Four, Canadian artillery, announcing that his son, Charles Conn, of the same Canadian unit, was killed.

Hill carried out an agreement made by the comrades just before going into battle that one should assume the task of notifying the other's parents in case of death. Conn was struck by an exploding shell which also killed an officer and another private, the letter stated. A short time previous the family received a telegram from Mrs. Edna Yanoff, of Ford City, a sister of the victim, informing them that she had been notified of his death. Hill's letter was dated August 31. Conn was killed three days previously.

CONNELLVILLE ESTIMATED
AT MORE THAN $1,500,000110TH BOYS OPEN
DRESSING STATION
IN MILE-LONG CAVE

Interesting Story of Life on the Firing Related in Letter From Jimmy Barr.

Writing to his mother, Mrs. James S. Barr, of South Pittsburgh street, James A. Barr, with the 110th Medical Detachment in France, tells of meeting a former playmate, Lynn Hamilton, now of Pittsburgh. He also writes of jumping into a shell hole on top of Ross Tissue. The letter, dated August 27, follows:

"Have not at this time received any mail from you since July 24. That was the date of your last letter. The day after I wrote you the last letter we were left for up in back of the lines. Moser went on up farther with some other boys and established a dressing station in a cave. This cave was a mile long and most of it wet and damp. 'They left me in the regimental headquarters, not so far up. My job was to order ambulances, keep them in supplies and take care of the casualty lists. Moser was in that cave eight days. He and I were both relieved yesterday for a little rest. Percy Shertz took my place. 'The other day some German shells chased me into a dugout. I jumped in on top of Ross Tissue. It was the first time I had seen him for a month. I was on an ambulance the other day and who do you suppose was driving it? When we became acquainted I was Barr and he was Hamilton from North Pittsburgh—you know—Lynn. We went down to the hospital and had a big meal. The Dutch shelled the road and how they missed us I don't know. Am well and feeling fine. Lots of love. Write often."

YANKS WONDERFULLY GALLANT, BRITISH BETTER THAN EVER;
FRENCH LIKE IN 1914 FOCH

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 25.—Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the Allied armies on the western front, who dislikes interviews and rarely grants one, received a few newspapermen at his headquarters on Tuesday. Among those received was the correspondent of the Telegraph, who thus records the marshal's utterances:

"The British army is better than ever. It fights better than ever. All of its losses have been made good and it is a more splendid army than it has been before. 'The Americans are splendid and are wonderfully gallant in the field. Ten thousand fresh Americans arrive in France every day.

"The French army is the same good old army that it was in 1914. No more is to be said."

CAMPAIGN OPENS MONDAY

Team Captains and Workers Will Assemble at Masonic Temple For Lunch and Receive Final Instructions; Expect to Reach Goal in Week.

The Fourth Liberty Loan quota for Connellsville, although not yet officially announced to the executive committee in charge of the coming drive, is estimated to be more than a million and a half dollars. The quota for Fayette county is $7,507,350 and this city will probably assume one-fifth of that amount. The county executive committee is at work today figuring out the quotas for the various districts. The estimated amount for Connellsville's quota is placed at $1,553,470.

The drive for subscriptions in Connellsville and vicinity will begin at noon Monday. All the team captains and their workers will assemble at the Masonic Temple for lunch to be served each day during the week by women committees of the various churches. At the lunch on Monday the canvassers will be provided with blanks and other necessary equipment. At the close of the noon gathering at which final instructions will be given team members will immediately begin to cover their territory. It is hoped to close the drive here by the end of the week. If the quota is not attained, however, the campaign may have to be extended.

At a meeting held in the Masonic Temple last night team captains and many workers had the plans under which the coming campaign will be conducted explained to them. F. T. Norton presided at the meeting and answered questions of the workers, making every detail of the canvass plain.

The workers were told that in many cases they should ask for a larger subscription than in the third loan, as higher wages are now being paid and to reach the loan quota it will be necessary to have former $50 subscribers take out $100.

The banks will probably restrict the period in which the amount subscribed can be paid to six months, and as many subscribers as possible are asked to follow the government plan of payment which calls for 10 per cent on December 31; 20 per cent on January 15; and 30 per cent on January 30. The banks of the country are overloaded with subscriptions of the previous loans which they are carrying on the deferred payment plan and it will be impossible to handle the coming loan in the same manner.

The buttons and honor emblems to be placed in the window of a subscriber are here and will be distributed by the canvasser as each person signs up for a bond. Great care will be exercised to see that no one will receive a button until the initial payment of 10 per cent has been made on the bond.

The campaign will be given a noisy start here. A request will be made to have all whistles in the city blown at noon Monday. All church and school bells will also be rung.

The publicity committee has had a large number of streamers to be placed in the downtown stores prepared, and several hundred shorter streamers, bearing the words "Buy Bonds" will be placed in residential sections, so that the public will always have the loan before their mind. The publicity committee also has several other novel features for the advertisement of the loan under consideration.

Workers on the canvassing teams or anyone interested is asked to suggest a slogan that can be adopted for the campaign here. Several have been suggested but none has yet been decided on. The slogan probably will be adopted at the first meeting at noon Monday.

The loan workers will be sworn in at the high school tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock by Judge E. H. Reppert. Attorney W. C. McKean and Wooda N. Carr will make addresses after the ceremonies. The Connellsville Military band will play for the occasion. The public is invited to the meeting which will be a routing one. The gathering tomorrow night is really considered the first step towards the opening of the drive here.

Heavy Frost Damage.
Heavy damage was done in places about Connellsville by the frosts of Saturday night and Sunday night. Beans, pumpkin vines and cucumbers suffered most, in some places being destroyed. There was little damage in Connellsville. The frosts were the first of the season.

MANY TALES OF INTEREST TO BE TOLD OF THE BOYS.

S. L. Brown attached to Base Hospital 41 in France has been transferred to the eye clinic according to a letter written by Brown to L. B. Clifton. The letter is as follows:

"I read in the Paris edition of the Herald that President Wilson had signed the man-power act. I do not think any of the men registering under the new act will see France yet. The training some will get will be of great worth to them."

"I understand that at last we will have a chance to transfer to other branches of service and I perhaps will move a little farther up. They have had some excitement here occasionally yet of no especial consequence to us."

"We have a sergeant of Company D here now but I am not allowed to tell his name or give particulars. He was not a sergeant when the company left Connelville and I did not know him. They have been doing real work and from the effects surely are upholding the old traditions. I learned the first of Bishop's death which has reached there officially long before this letter is written. They have many tales of interest of the boys we know are told."

"Durst now does not have his same position. 'Gummi' D. Worth has been transferred from Company D. Charlie the barber is still a gay spirit and Mack is still banging around being assigned to ward work. As I said, I have been assigned to the eye clinic and hope to get some real experience from the work."

"We are allowed to give our location closer. Am located at St. Denis a suburb of Paris, adjoining the famous old Legion of Honor (Legion of Honour) seminary building."

"School resumes here again this fall after being closed since the Boche advanced in 1916. This will be quite a busy place. The scholars will represent the best people in France."

"The people of France certainly show a fine spirit of brotherhood towards the Americans. Their courtesy is incomparable. They seem to regard our troops as equal to any and speak very highly of them. There are many things I could tell you if permitted. I hope to be back to spend December 1919 looking brass for some good old time. Can you believe I have not visited Tiffany's place in Paris as yet. Hope to soon."

Brown previous to enlisting was a jeweler for A. B. Kurtz.

HUN GETTING FULL SHARP, SAYS PENNIPLO

John Penniplo, a member of the United States Medical Department, writing to his father from a rest camp in France says the Hun is getting the worst of the argument. The letter follows:

"This is surely some war over here and Kaiser Bill seems to be getting the worst of the argument. He had better throw the sprag in his retreat across the Rhine or it may prove fatal to him."

"At present I am at a rest camp. We expect to return to the lines in a short time again and give the Boche plenty of sleep. Father I wish you were over here to see some of the scenery. Some of it is very good and other is very bad. We are in a good sized village, that is it was before the war. It is a complete wreck now due to the shells that have fallen here."

"Of course you would become frightened if you were here. It takes an experienced soldier to witness these things without being frightened. You should see the Boche airplanes that make mistakes and come over our lines. When they get in sight they surely get a big share of shells and make a hasty retreat. Give my regards to all the Connelville folks."

GLASER BURKHARDT ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Glaser F. Burkhardt, attached to the Quartermaster's Supply company has arrived safely in France according to a card received by his parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crouse of South Connelville. Burkhardt previous to his enlistment last July was employed by the H. C. Trick Coke company.

WAR NEWS

By Associated Press.
In Palestine, Macedonians and France the intense offensives progress successfully.

General Allenby's forces in Palestine have followed up their rout of the Turkish forces with additional gains. In Central Macedonia the Allies are pressing vigorously the advantages won and the difficulties of the Germans and Bulgarians are increasing.

Field Marshal Haig has taken a new step in his investment of St. Quentin and is fighting towards the northern outskirts of that German strong point from east of Verdun.

On the Mediterranean coast of Palestine British cavalry has occupied the port of Haifa and Vev, making an advance from just north of Haifa of more than 60 miles since the present operations began.

There has been famous in history for the success it has undergone. Napoleon met with a serious repulse there in 1793.

The rout of the Turks in the area west of the Jordan has compelled the Turkish east of the river to retreat. They are being pursued closely by Allied forces. It is said that the Allies are pushing north rapidly along the Hedjaz railway.

German and Bulgarian troops in Macedonia with the communication lines almost entirely gone through by the Prapo-Serbian advance to the Vardar, are retreating on a 100 mile front. The Allies have reached the Vardar northeast of Monastir on a front of more than 10 miles and Serbian forces have crossed to east of the river in pursuit of the Bulgarians.

On the left of the Allied line Italian and Serbian forces are closing in on Priep. Along the entire front the enemy is burning villages and war material.

By crossing the Vardar on a wide front south of Gradiska 10 miles southeast of the important town of Iskub, the Serbians threatened the rear of the Bulgarians facing the British and Greeks around Lake Dolan.

VIET TERRITORY WRESTED FROM HUNS BY BRITISH.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 24.—A Viet territory is taking place today on the front nearly west of St. Quentin between Holnon and I. County. Main interest however is centering in the Loeuvt loss. Color where the British since Saturday have by determined fighting, forced around which is of the greatest importance and which captured documents show to be a vital part of the Hun line defenses that was to be held at all costs.

The pressure which the British have established here is obvious from a glance at the detail map. The great St. Quentin canal forms a strong natural defense for the enemy. It is a great distance in this sector but just east of Reims is a canal and a ground for a few miles in other words there is a gap in the waterway defense here and it is this which the Germans have been defending desperately.

CONSUL GENERAL POOLE REACHES BORDER SAFETY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—United States Consul General Poole is arrived at Helsinki from Moscow and is due in Stockholm tomorrow. News that the consul general had crossed the Finnish border in safety reached the State Department today in a message from Helsinki dated September 24.

The dispatch brought no information concerning the British and French consular officers who are detained by the Bolsheviks and to whom Poole insisted upon remaining at his post until ordered away.

BREAKNECK MINISTER GIVES MANY REASONS IN EXEMPTION CLAIM

Besides Following the Holy Calling He Enjoins at Farming in Summer, Working in Winter.

Four reasons why he should be exempt from military service are set forth in the exemption claim filed by Rev. Albert B. Eckman of Breakneck with local Board No. 2. Several are:

First—That he is an ordained minister of the Church of God having under different charges in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

Second—That he has a wife and three children dependent upon him.

Third—That he operates a small farm and is therefore entitled to agricultural classification.

Fourth—That he is a member of the Society of Friends, his religious faith is sufficient to exempt him from military service and during the winter he engages in mining.

Rev. Breakneck is one of the few it is said to file four reasons for claiming exemption.

Every Member of the Family Will Enjoy the Pathephone

With the fast approaching cold weather our thoughts naturally drift to the long and dreary evenings of Winter—the greater part of which will be spent at Home. But there'll be no long, dreary evenings if you have a Pathephone in your Home. The Pathephone dispels gloom makes the Home bright and cheery—provides pleasant, wholesome enjoyment for young and old alike.

The Pathe Pathephone is the Greatest Development of the Talking Machine

It is ALL Talking Machines in ONE—embodies every known feature that will add to your pleasure and enjoyment.

It does away with the everlasting nuisance of changing needles—plays Pathe Records with the permanent Sapphire Ball.

It never wears out the Records—every Pathe Record is guaranteed to play at least 1,000 times, whereas ordinary Records can be played only from 75 to 85 times.

Pathephones $30 to $225.

It plays all Records—that any other machine will play—giving you the world's best artists and music to choose from.

It has the sweetest tone of any machine—giving a natural duplication of the living voices of the artists themselves.

Come in and see for yourself why the Pathephone is the PREFERRED Talking Machine—the only one that it pays to buy for your Home.

Pathe Records 75c to $4.

Come in Tomorrow and see this Special Pathephone Outfit!

Consists of the popular $85 Model Pathephone (that plays all Records) and your choice of six double-faced Pathe Records (twelve selections).

All For Just $89.50

In design, construction, appearance and quality this $85 Model Pathephone is the equal of any other standard $100 or $110 machine on the market.

As usual, First with the Latest "Hits"

Come in and let us play some of these latest song "Hits" for you—we know you'll enjoy hearing them.

THE DEFERMENT OF WORKERS

The clearness and frequency with which Provost Marshal General Crowder has directed the attention of employers to the necessity for taking an interested and active part in securing deferred classification for essential employees, makes it almost unnecessary to dwell upon the matter further. There are, however, certain considerations that should be given the weight now that the time for action has arrived.

Fewer employees will fail in the important matter of securing deferment for their employees because this has been given the status of an important duty than will fail for other reasons. Realizing, as all red-blooded men do, that the average normal male citizen has a desire to have a part as an active participant in the great war, the majority of employers will have a hesitancy in asking for their employees what the employer himself would very probably dislike to have others ask for him. This attitude is the natural one, but after a more thoughtful consideration of the situation employers will understand that they can pursue a different course and still be performing their full duty as patriotic and loyal citizens.

The war is being fought by two armies. One comprises the men who have gone or are preparing to go overseas to meet the enemy in mortal combat. The other comprises, just as patriotic and as willing men who are remaining behind in the mines, mills, factories, on the railroads and farms, not as a matter of choice but because they have come to realize that they have a duty as important as the duty of the soldiers without the full discharge of which the army overseas cannot win. This day-at-home service is hazardous and monotonous, without the stirring influence of a martial setting, but those who are having their part in it are, in many instances, making a uniformed fighter in the ranks no less than the latter is making a sacrifice of material things and comforts and perhaps of life itself.

That both services are honorable and necessary the employee should recognize just as fully as does the employer. The average employer no doubt has that view of the matter but fearing that a misconception may be placed upon his claim for deferment on the ground of being engaged in an essential occupation, it is likely that very few such claims will be filed voluntarily. Here is where the duty of the employer comes in. If the working forces of the essential industries, like coal mining and coke making, are to be preserved from further depletion, employers must exercise the privilege granted under the selective service law and file claims for deferment for their employees.

That was a wise decision of General Crowder when he refused to permit local boards to grant deferred classification to registrants as a class in any industry. Had this privilege been allowed it would have been an inducement to those wishing to avoid military service to overcrowd the preferred industries which would have stripped others of their working forces. This decision was the result of a purpose to give as broad an application as possible to the principle of selective service, that men should remain in those essential industries to which their experience and training best adapt them. By placing each claim for deferment upon its own merits there can be a more impartial administration of the draft law, abuses can be prevented, and the army at home and the army abroad can each be kept at required fighting strength.

This decision has placed upon employers a greater responsibility than a less restricted application of deferment privileges would have done, but it is a responsibility they must meet if they expect to prevent the draft making serious inroads into their plant forces.

A registrant who can give as many and good reasons for deferment classification as that Breakneck motor-farmer-miner is entitled to a special classification.

Remember that you can take up to 2500 of the fourth issue of Liberty Bonds and hold them tax free.

The more deserving Bulgarians the German officers kill the less fighting the "Franco-Serbians" will have to do. As a conservative measure this practice shows real "German efficiency."

There is one danger in loosening up on the gasoline saving rule for the coming Sunday. It may overcrowd the highways with automobiles in search of Liberty Bond meetings or possible buyers of bonds.

Connellsville "pop," the kind Judge Rogers described, is made nowhere else in the county, will per according to schedule all during the coming week.

THE SILENT GENERAL

Napoleon, of the great renown, was fond of sounding phrases. He cried "The grand old days," in Egypt, but as blazes he liked to hit a haughty pose, and try to look as state as some huge Alp, whose loads of snow have advertised it greatly. As great a general as he now deals the iron rations, in charge of France's destiny, and that of allied nations, Great Poch, who bears the biggest load that ever mortal carried, who chafed the Teutons down the road, all rattled, beaten, harried! He is so busy with the Teut, the flood of vandy's damming, he has no time to elaborate or do some edifying. He hasn't time for some of thought, like that old sport, Bismarck, he's out to see some Prussians shot, to keep Huns in a frenzy. Of high remarks he has not time, like orator and writer; "Realities are all that count," observes that grand old fighter. The fight is hard, the way is rough, the foes are stubborn, stern, "we cannot win, we cannot conquer," stuff will do for grand stand mounts. Reverses of the foe-man mount, our own are growing few. "Realities," he tells all that count. Poch tells the interviewer. He is so busy canning kinks and squelching, tyrant nations, he has no time to think up things for schoolboy declamations.

SCHOOL.

They shall teach him to read,
How to write and how to spell.
He shall follow where they lead,
With the ringing of the bell.
Once in school, his little mind
Shall follow to those who teach.
But I must stay behind,
Out of sight and out of reach.
I must meet him at the door
When his simple tasks are through,
Humming with him, as before,
I must teach him to be true.
He shall learn in school of kings,
And of lords and how to spell.
They shall teach him many things,
That he couldn't learn from me.
They can better teach than I,
Much his little mind should know.
But we didn't say good-bye,
When to school I let him go.
Howsoever kind and wise
All his teachers there shall be,
He will rise to higher life
Than the things he learns from me.
It is not enough to know
How to write and how to spell.
Some one also has to show
How to use those talents well.
There are lessons all must learn
Supplementing those of school;
There is a father's love
To explain each puzzling rule.
I must wait for him at night,
Following his school days through,
I must guide his feet aright,
I must teach him to be true.

MANY NEW DISEASES

DEVELOP AMONG THE

GERMANS DURING WAR

People Age Rapidly Under Worries and Strain; Heart Trouble and Other Ailments Increase.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 24.—The war has been responsible for the development of numerous new ailments in Germany, asserts Professor Albu in an article in the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger. Its effects have aggravated various human ills.

There can be no doubt, he says, that many people are aging more rapidly now owing to the worries and difficulties of daily life. People are growing gray sooner. The action of the heart and blood vessels suffers. Exhaustive observations he believes point to the fact that both at home and in the field, arterio sclerosis is a genuine war disease. "What chronic underfeeding takes in this, we do not yet know," he adds. The increased blood pressure on the heart and the blood vessels entails many dangers. Only in the years after the war we shall be able to gauge the full extent of this unprecedented tension which is using up human strength. Individual power of resistance of course plays a great part in organic reaction.

"The number of those who have gone through this endless war so far without any impairment of health is not large, and it is safe to say that when we come to the end there will be few indeed who can claim perfect immunity. It seems to me, therefore, that it is the wrong policy for the authorities to place so many difficulties in the way of people who need rest, relaxation and a change of air and surroundings.

"The state," Professor Albu concludes, "and this may well apply to all belligerent nations—needs careful husbanding of human material. Public and social hygiene are faced with problems of stupendous magnitude. This war has killed, maimed or injured more sound stock in four years than in four peace decades.

"Consistent underfeeding has weakened the system to an extraordinary extent, especially in the matter of infectious diseases. Nothing proves the more conclusively than the increased mortality from dysentery, etc. Burned down villages can be built up again more easily than human generations. The value of the individual has risen to a point which demands the most careful consideration."

ENORMOUS PURCHASES

Have Been Made by the Subscribers to the Liberty Loans.

The subscribers to the Liberty Loans have purchased for the War Department over $5,000,000,000 of ordnance—$1,000,000,000 was spent for artillery; $300,000,000 for automatic rifles; $100,000,000 for small arms; nearly $2,000,000,000 for artillery ammunition and $1,000,000,000 for small arms ammunition; $100,000,000 was spent for armored motor cars.

It is estimated that $7,000,000,000 will be spent by the Ordnance Department this current year.

Every American wishes to have a part in winning the war and supporting our soldiers who are fighting our battles in France. Every subscriber to the Fourth Liberty Loan will have a part in the great achievements that the American Army is accomplishing, and in the achievements which the greater American Army will accomplish next spring.

September Twenty-Eighth

The Fourth Liberty Loan drive starts. Fayette County's allotment is $7,000,000; we must oversubscribe. Get busy, make your plans—everybody must help.

IT IS A VERY GOOD TIME

to plan for your fall stocks of potatoes, cabbage, apples, flour, feed, hay, and other goods which would be to your advantage to buy in quantities. The Union Supply Company will shortly be receiving winter supplies of potatoes in carload lots, a supply of cabbage for kraut making, large carload quantities of hay, flour, feed—they are coming in now, the prices are reasonable, possibly be higher later. If you have room for storage, we advise that you put in your winter supplies now. Railroad congestion later will make these supplies hard to get. Will soon be receiving large quantities of winter apples. Our plan is to store them, but if you prefer to buy your winter supplies immediately on receipt of our cars, it will be to your advantage. Apples are going to be high, crops have been short, the quality that we are getting is high class. These matters should all be given very careful consideration. Of course we can supply you daily if you prefer to buy that way. Our stocks will be kept up during the entire winter season and prices will always be the lowest the market can afford.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful, powerful, known drug, called Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that no called external remedy applied or inserted in the rectum cures piles and adds to the best only give temporary relief. It is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after for a while but in no wise acts on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the anus in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, cooling, and if it is at all, inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It is positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Bleeding often comes in two or three days, it most even in cases of profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments and operations. Really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy has positively cured a case in the worst cases and he is instructed drugists to give the country to guarantee it in every case of blind bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition, Miro Pile Remedy is a prepared in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. For sale by the Connelville Drug Company—Adv.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT

THAT DIVIL BATTLE! A five part Blu bird attraction with Monre valentin in the leading role is being shown today. Here is a play for everyone a play of deep human emotions portrayed by the master artist. The scenic effects in the picture have never been surpassed on the screen. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow, Inside the Lines, with Law S. S. One of America's best actors in the leading role will be presented in this picture. The military tactics of the German plotter is exposed. In the case of the governor of Gibraltar, he never knew that his only servant was an envoy of the German force and that the man owning the beautiful hotel overlooking the harbor of Gibraltar was on the payroll of the German Wilhelm force. It is a picture with a thousand and one thrills in it. An American girl meets a supposed German spy and although she loves him she thinks she will not expose him until he finally confesses himself as an English agent. The picture is a story about one phase of the war—the vast extent of the German spy system. You will enjoy it thoroughly. Mr. Steue is supported by Marguerite Clifton the beautiful screen actress and other stars of prominence. An interesting Weekly Review will also be shown Friday and Saturday. Tilda Bara will be seen in "When a Woman Sins."

BRIDE OF BATTLE

A Romance of the
AMERICAN ARMY
Fighting on the Battlefields of FRANCE

VICTOR ROUSSEAU

Copyright, 1918, by W. G. Chapman

He glanced at the sleeping child, took Mark's hand and went quickly out of the tent. Under the sky he stood still for a few moments.

"The d—d scoundrel!" he muttered.

At that instant his alert ear heard what the sentry, posted some distance away, had failed to catch—the rustling of some moving figure in the dense jungle grass at the edge of the camp.

The major remained perfectly motionless, except for his right hand, which was swiftly withdrawing his revolver from its case. Suddenly he was transformed into action. He leaped between the two last tents of the line, to see a man confront him for an instant. In the light of the quarter-moon the major could not distinguish how the intruder was dressed. It was evident, however, that he had been prowling outside the tent which held Wallace and the child.

The Major Could Not Distinguish How the Intruder Was Dressed.

"Halt!" shouted the major and the sentry together, and as the man dropped into the grass, the rifle and revolver rang out simultaneously.

The sentry, shouting to the guard, came running up. The major and he searched the spot, but they found nobody.

"One of those d—d Cuban sneak-thieves!" muttered Major Howard as he replaced his revolver in its case. And he hurried away to look after his gun.

CHAPTER III.

Several years later Captain Mark Wallace descended from a street car and walked up the grounds of a very select young ladies' boarding school in Westchester county, New York, kept by two maiden ladies. Entering the colonial portico, the captain rang the bell and asked to see Miss Howard. Five minutes afterward, having satisfied the lady principal that he stood in the avuncular relation to her charge, and was a man of blameless life, he met Eleanor in the reception room.

It was some years since he had seen her. The grimy little wall of the Santiago battlefield had shot up into a slim, long-legged schoolgirl, with brown hair tied back with a ribbon, and a face that already showed the promise of beauty.

The girl hurried forward as if expecting an embrace, realized Mark's intention, and checked herself quickly and held out both hands.

"Dear Uncle Mark!" she exclaimed. "I've been looking forward to you ever since I got your letter telling me that you were coming East."

"Well, it's nice to be appreciated like that," said Mark, laughing.

"I couldn't quite persuade myself that it was true, and that I should really see you at last. And you're not in the least like your photograph."

"Homelier, Eleanor?"

"No, but different. Older—very much older. You must be awfully old—quite thirty, I should say."

"Nearly," admitted Mark, wondering whether the long years in the West with the sweltering heat and arduous service, had really aged him prematurely. Mark had had no influence to secure him anything better than a border post. He often wondered why he had not gone into civil life, like so many of his class, and amassed a competency in the first booming years of the twentieth century.

Something in the blood, perhaps, had held him to the army life, which he loved so much in principle and hated so much in practice. He was not far short of thirty; he had nothing but his meager pay; no ties but a married sister in Chicago and the girl in the boarding school, who filled so great a part of his thoughts, so disproportionate a share.

For until that day he had only seen her once since he picked her up in the jungle, and she had been too young to retain the memory of the meeting in Major Howard's home.

"I expected a young man, but I'm just as pleased to see you," said Eleanor. "I don't like very young men."

Mark received her amends with amusement, and they sat down side by side upon the sofa, and were soon deep in conversation. Mark learned all about her school and her friends. She was very happy there and would regret not going back at the end of the holidays. However, Major and Mrs. Howard had only placed her there for a few months while they went on a visit to the West.

"I always felt that you are really my guardian, even if you did give me up to Major Howard," said Eleanor.

"But I have only lent you," said Mark. "I couldn't very well take care of you when I was sent to Texas. And it has always been understood that you belong to me—I mean, that I am your guardian, Eleanor."

"I know," she said. "And you write me such splendid letters, with such good advice in them."

"Which you don't follow."

"Indeed I do," said the girl, eagerly. "Only sometimes it is just a little out of date, Uncle Mark."

"In what particular?" inquired Mark, beginning to feel a little like a prig in the presence of this self-possessed young person. It is so easy to assume the task of adviser from a distance, but difficult to retain the role face to face.

"Well, when you wrote me last year to remember not to be pert and forward, like modern children, Uncle Mark. Pertness comes at seven or eight. One isn't pert at twelve—at least, not in the way you meant. They call it ill-bred, then."

"I suppose I didn't realize how big you were getting," said Mark penitently. "But you can't think how glad I am to see you, anyway."

"It's a shame sticking you for years out in that horrible desert," said the girl. "I wish, Uncle Mark, you hadn't stayed in the army after the war."

"Why, my dear?"

"Because then you could have gone into business in New York, like Captain Murray and Captain Crawford."

"I've been thinking about as much myself, Eleanor. But I guess the army got hold of me."

"But they haven't treated you right, Uncle Mark. They haven't promoted you for years, and they have jumped all sorts of officers over your head. Major Howard was saying so only before he left for Alaska. But, of course, he's out of favor, and he wouldn't have any influence, anyway. It's years since he was in the army."

"I Know That She Was My Mother."

"I suppose I'm a back number, my dear. Some of us have to be. Perhaps I'll get my chance. I'm not thirty yet, you know, and thirty isn't considered awfully old in the army. At least, it isn't the retiring age."

"Don't be so absurd, Uncle Mark! You don't look an old man at all. It was just that your photograph was taken so long ago, and I didn't reflect that you must have changed."

"And if ever another war comes I'm sure my experience will count for a lot. And I'll probably have command over Captain Murray and Captain Crawford if ever the National Guard is called on for serious work. And then you'll have your function as our mascot, you know."

He was surprised at the girl's sudden responsiveness to his words. She grew very serious.

"I've often thought about that, Uncle Mark," she answered.

"But, of course, it may never happen."

"I suppose not. But if ever it does I mean to try to be what you meant me to be when you made that condition to the major. How I wish—how I wish—"

"Yes, my dear?"

"That we knew who my father was. Sometimes I think he was only an American planter, perhaps, who lived in Cuba and was forced to flee when the war began. And then again I dream that he may have been a brave soldier who was trying to serve his country by going into the Spanish lines in disguise, and I hope that I may be worthy of him."

OPERATORS URGED TO HELP MINERS GET IN PROPER CLASSES

Asked to Comply With the Suggestions Made By Gen. Crowder.

SPARE NO EFFORT IS WORD

To District Boards to Impress Upon Operators the Necessity of Having Their Employees Understand Why They Should Stick to Their Post.

Coal operators are urged by the Fuel Administration to comply faithfully with every suggestion made by Provost Marshal General Crowder in regard to informing themselves of the exact status of each of their employees with reference to their classification under the new man-power law. They are urged also to file with district boards the requisite affidavit for deferred classification in the case of every man in their employ who has registered whose services are essential to the conduct of the business of mining coal.

Frequent conferences have been held during the past two months between representatives of the Fuel Administration and officials of the War Department in regard to the best means to be adopted to convince the miners of the nation that their duties in the mines and not in the military service. This fact has been impressed upon the district boards in every mining district by Provost Marshal General Crowder and by the several production managers, and government officials desire to impress the coal operators with the necessity of sparing no effort to make their employees understand how essential it is to the vigorous prosecution of the war that each one of them should stick to his post in the mines where his experience and skill are so useful now and where he is so badly needed, instead of entering the military service where he must undergo months of training before he can be of any value to his country.

Attention is called to the fact that failure on the part of the operators to do their utmost both with their employees and with the district boards to insure deferred classification for such of their men as are properly entitled to it, may not only result in financial loss and great inconvenience to them, but may be the means of handicapping the government in the conduct of the war by curtailing the production of coal.

Questionnaires will be sent out in a few days to every man between the ages of 19 and 26, and 32 and 36, and the classification given these men will be based exclusively upon the answers contained in those questionnaires unless affidavits for deferred classification are filed with the district boards by their dependents or employers. The experience of the operators during the first draft, it is hoped, will convince them of the necessity for prompt action at the present time in doing everything necessary to inform the district boards of the name of every man who should be given deferred classification.

Numerous instances have been brought to the attention of the National Coal Association of necessary employees who have been taken into the army under the former selective service law, and investigation of many of those cases has shown that the action of the boards was due to the failure of the employers to take advantage of their right to file affidavits for deferred classification. It is common knowledge that many men who ought to file claims for deferred classification because of dependents have failed or refused to do so because they feared they might be criticized. Such fear, it is hoped, has been dispelled by the proclamation of President Wilson urging such men to remain at their posts, and by the statements that have been made by officers in Provost Marshal General Crowder's office. Too much emphasis, however, it is felt cannot be laid upon these utterances in presenting them to the men to whom they have been addressed, and operators are urged to continue their efforts along this line until they are certain that every man in their employ fully understands the attitude of the government on this matter.

WASTE NOT

The Gospel of Thrift Taught Everywhere.

On every hand we are reminded of the importance of avoiding waste. No matter how prolific nature may be in producing food supply, yet there is a limit. The same principle holds good with regard to money. Every person should avoid waste. Save a little from all of the money that comes into your hands and deposit it with The Citizens National Bank in a savings account. The bank invites deposits in any amount and pays interest on the money. This bank is located at 138 N. Pittsburg Street.—Adv.

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

MAKE your showery hunting days this Fall the good days for ducks they really ought to be, with the right shotshells—Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells." No matter how much water may get to them, they will actually stay just as dry and serviceable as your Remington UMC Pump Gun or Autoloading Shotgun.

Those finest of shoal-water fowl, the big mallards—which you can seldom get with in gunshot of when it is calm and fair—are then not so quick to take wing. But your shells must be right. Hunting has no worse luck than a water-soaked shell that has swelled and sticks in the gun at a critical moment—to say nothing of a "mis" caused by wilting of the turned-over end of the shell.

Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are made waterproof by a wonderful process, invented for them and used exclusively in their manufacture.

It took three years to perfect this process. The result is a shell that will work and shoot right throughout an all-day downpour—keeps hard and smooth with no softening of the turned-over end or bulging of the top wad in the wettest coat pocket.

You buy the same favorite brand, at the regular price, and get the Wetproof improvement without cost. The first completely waterproof shotshell, at the same time having the uniform superiority of speed, pattern and penetration for which Remington UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are famous.

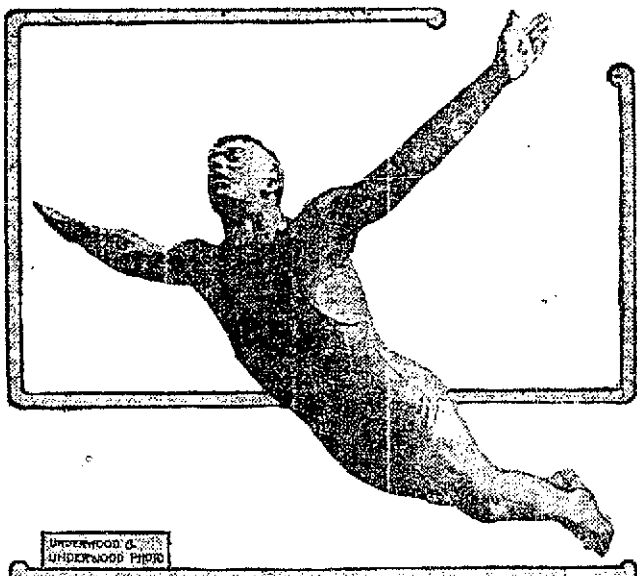

In black powder, buy the old reliable "New Club," now Wetproof sealed at turnover and top wad.

NORMAN ROSS, WORLD'S CHAMPION MIDDLE DISTANCE SWIMMER, IN AVIATION CORPS

Norman Ross, world's champion middle-distance swimmer, is shown here in a remarkable swim dive at Neptune beach, Alameda. The thousands of spectators gasped in amazement as Ross' birdlike form rose into the air and descended gracefully into the water in one of the greatest dives ever witnessed in a championship event. Ross is in the last stages of solo flying in the American aviation corps. It was an impulse received from seeing this picture of himself in the air that prompted him to join the aviation corps. His perfect poise, and equilibrium makes him a valuable air bird to the American army. It is evident from this picture that Ross has chosen a branch of the service which he is well fitted for.

WAR WORK COUNCIL IS DISCUSSED AT SCOTSDALE RALLY

Practically Every Organization Represented at Initial Gathering.

COMMITTEE TO DRAFT PLANS

Persons Believed to Have Been Implicated in Slaying of Mike Nicolsa Arrested; Actual Assault Still at Large, Officers Are Convinced.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Sept. 25.—On Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. the following persons met representing the various organizations looking forward to the formation of the War
Work Council in Scottdale: The Red Cross was represented by E. L.
Brown, R. P. Perry and Miss Kate
Finerty; the Industrial League by A.
H. Skemp and P. T. Lewis; the Liberty association by J. A. Barnhart and Miss Edna Krouse; the Knights of Columbus by Alex. Yabner; the selective draft board by B. H. Boyd; professional men by Dr. Arthur Walder; the business men by Harry Parker; the Y. M. C. A. by W. S. Anderson; the Ministerial association by Rev. J. E. Hutchinson; the Young Men's Hebrew association by Ben Mittler; the banks by Z. M. Zimmer; the Red Triangle, the Boy Scouts and the military school by C. D. Flagle;
the Four-Minute men and the Fourth Liberty Loan by W. R. Stauffer, and the Federated Women's clubs by Mrs.
Albert Keister. C. D. Flagle was chosen president and Miss Edna Krouse, secretary. They were chosen on a committee to lay definite plans for the organization of the work, along with Alex. Yabner, W. S. Anderson, W. R. Stauffer and Fred L. Brown.

The temporary plans for the organization of the War Work Council are not to disturb any organization as they exist today, but to secure the maximum amount of service and funds by uniting all recognized national war service organizations, to strengthen all recognized local organizations, to enlist every man, woman and youth in the community into war service movements, in order to do their full duty according to their ability during the war, to reduce to a minimum the number of money raising campaigns, to secure adequate support for all future war needs and to encourage thrift.

Brothers-Idle.
George Rice and Miss Virgie
Brothers went to Cumberland on Saturday and were married. They will make their home with his parents at Mount Olive.

For Belgian Relief.
Mrs. George McGowan entertained at the W. C. T. U. at her Walnut avenue home last evening. Mrs. C. W.
Stauffer presided. Mrs. L. S. Michael led the devotion. The evening was devoted to laying plans for the Belgian Relief work that the W. C.
T. U. of Scottdale will take charge of
for the Red Cross. The committee appointed to be in charge was Mrs.
George McGowan, chairman; Mrs. H.
B. Fox, Mrs. Ora Yost, Mrs. J. E.
Steelsmith, Mrs. Robert Baird, Mrs.
E. F. DeWitt, Mrs. M. L. Brown, Mrs.
C. W. Stauffer, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Lucy A. Poole.

For Sale.
Seven room house, seven lots, 10 minutes walk to car line, $2,400.
Nine room house, all modern improvements, one block from car stop,
$3,100. See Auctioneer Gay Reese,
121 Market street, Scottdale.—Adv.

Suspects Arrested.
Mike Nicolsa, who was stabbed on Bridge street Sunday evening and died shortly after, was buried in St.
John's cemetery yesterday afternoon following mass held at St. John's church. Tony Danco and Felix Nadelia were arrested as implicated in the crime and taken to the Greenburg jail by Chief of Police Frank McCudden. Domane the Italian who it is believed was the man that stabbed Nicolsa and at whose home the stabbing occurred, has not been taken by the police yet. The funeral was one of the largest held for some time as the murdered man was one of the best known Italians in this community.

RED CROSS WORK IN SCHOOLS TO BE RENEWED AT ONCE

Active Campaign at Mount Pleasant to Have Young Folks Help.

MADE GOOD RECORD LAST YEAR

Large Assortment of Articles Used by the Organization Turned Out During School Term, With Imperiect Organization; Scottdale Helps.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 25.—
The Red Cross work will be brought into the schools this year with renewed efforts, as the work done by the school last year passed all possible expectations. Into the Mount Pleasant chapter, National Red Cross, Junior membership, last year came 2,100 children. On account of distance and bad roads the schools were only partly organized but those that came into the organization have done their share of the work. The work of the schools is self-supporting, as no money can be taken from the community fund for this work. It is based on a 25 cent membership.
The first ward schools of Mount Pleasant in addition to their knitted work adopted two French War Orphanas at a cost of $36.50 each per year.

The following articles were made and shipped to headquarters in June at the close of the school year: Fourteen large knitted ambulance robes of 140 6x8 patches and 30 small robes of 48 patches 6x6. Added to these were 13 quilted haps of the large size, 250 knitted wash cloths, 10 wool baby blankets, 44 fracture pillows, 15 children's night gowns, 77 petticoats, 40 outing cloths, 4 year-old dresses,
15 pinafores, 7 baby coats, 9 infant capies with hoods, 55 eye bandages, 19 knee bandages, 13 layettes. The Bear Rocks, Spring Garden, Bridgeport, Cross Roads and Byerly schools paid for material and equipment for 51 comfort kits, amounting to $90. The amount paid for material turned into the school to be used for Red Cross work was $169.05. The figures include the work of the Scottdale unit.

Personal.
Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin of Rochester, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Stevens.

His Opinion.
"Don't you think I stand a good chance of making a fortune out of that mine?"
"Out of it, yes; in it, not."

COMPARATIVELY YOUNG MEN CALLED VETERANS

Arthur Fletcher of the Giants, Zach Wheat of Brooklyn and Tom Clark of the Reds, are the oldest players in point of service on their clubs in the National League. The three men all joined their respective teams in 1909. Now that Hans Wagner has retired from the diamond, Max Carey is the veteran player on the Pirates. He joined the club in 1910. Dick Budolph did not become a Brave until 1913, but he has been with the club longer than any other of the present members. Two other players who are now the veterans of their teams joined their clubs the same year. They are Jim Vaughn of the Cubs and Bill Doak of the Cardinals.
